To whom it may concern:

Chubu Electric Power Company, Incorporated (the "Company") has accepted a request for suspension of Hamaoka Nuclear Power Plant from the prime minister, and has decided to suspend operation of all Hamaoka Nuclear Power Plant Reactors. By such factor, considering the effect to the Company's financial standing, it is expected that acquisition of treasury shares becomes difficult for the time being.

Given the above, the Company hereby announces that, at the May 10, 2011 meeting of the Board of directors, it decided to revise the policy on shareholders' return (announced in January 28, 2011-details are shown in attached document) partially - to retract the policy on acquisition of treasury shares and its quantitative targets, and to set a policy on shareholders' return as shown below hereafter.

The Company immediately takes further measures against tsunami such as installing breakwater walls, and aims to resume early operation of Hamaoka Nuclear Power Plant.

Details

The Company maintains its policy regarding the shareholders' return as to keep dividend payout at current level (60 yen per annum per share). It is based to meet shareholders' expectations, as well as to continue investments for building and operating facilities, that are essential for a stable supply of electricity.
