Reason for the Revision

Chubu Electric Power has revised outlooks for the six months period ended September 30, 2010, because of increase in operating revenues contributed by increase in electric energy sales. Predictions for lower fuel expense caused by decline in fuel price, and other factors are also causes of the revision.

New forecasts for full fiscal year ending March 31, 2011 will be announced together with announcement of results for six months period ended September 30, 2010, on October 29, 2010.

[Principal figures on which outlooks are based]

Items	Current forecast	Previous forecast
Electric energy sold (TWh)	approx. 66.1	approx. 63.4
CIF price: crude oil ($/b)	approx. 78	approx. 83
FX rate (yen/$)	approx. 89	approx. 94

Note: This forecast is based on information available at the time of publication, and current assumptions regarding uncertain factors affecting future business results.

Actual results may differ from the forecast, depending on a variety of factors.
